

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Jasenko Đorđević was born on 9. June. 1983 in Tuzla (Bosnia and Herzegovina). He finished primary and middle school in Tuzla. Ever since his youth he expressed interest in miniature, and since January 2010. he has been making sculptures on graphite pencils. He was the second one in the world, and the first one in Europe to start creating these kinds of sculptures and cites artist Dalton Ghatti, who is considered a pioneer in this art form, as his initial inspiration. Up until this point he had many solo exhibits and has taken participation in dozens of group exhibits. Jasenko Đorđević's artwork can be found in private collections across the world and ever since 2013. his work has become a part of permanent exhibition in the Cumberland Pencil Museum (UK). He is also the proud recipient of the Grand Prix Award at the 7th biennale of miniature art Bosnia and Herzegovina.